Professional Profile

With decades of experience devoted to software development, I am forever grateful for excellent management training early in my career. Whether working in person as a solutions architect, remotely as an individual contributor, or semi-privately interviewing in a sea of desks at a call center, the transferrable skills I bring into therapeutic relationships are supported by a depth of personal experience integrating the wisdom of cross-functional teams. This includes perspective gained through self-advocacy with regard to intersecting forms of marginalization and disability.

Iterative work, keen observation, justice orientation, continuous introspection, frank discussion, and deliberate action all remain central to how I show up in any setting. Whether collaborating with clients on therapeutic goals, organizing advocacy efforts, or gathering requirements for software development projects, my life-long devotion to learning and community development endures.

Core Competencies

Leadership for Equity	Deeply Attuned	Intersectional Perspective
Broaching for Healing	Anti-Oppression	Holds Cognitive Dissonance
Open to Possibilities	Devoted to Activism	Constructively Disruptive

Leadership for Equity

- * Builds coalitions with emphasis on centering marginalized team members to address unmet needs and ensure collective success
- * Offers counsel and mentorship to individuals seeking help with effectively integrating group processes and agreements
- * Collaborates to co-create accessible environments, advocating for inclusion while improving productivity and job satisfaction
- * Analyzes existing processes with an ability to creatively synthesize opportunities and envision alternatives to surface options for mutually beneficial paths forward
- * Stands in solidarity with several marginalized identities, holds epistemic privilege regarding intersectional experience, and fosters deeply inclusive collaborations

Broaching for Healing

- * Quickly recognizes the unspoken, often uncomfortable or shameful, shadow parts present in any given system or group
- * Practices on a continuum of conflict resolution options from calling on, to calling in, to eventually calling out problematic experience
- * Holds firm to confidential and contemplative exploration of sensitive topics, continually seeking and affirming consent
- * Polls for resonance with topics relevant to systemic or internalized oppression while helping to make conscious the unconscious
- * Asks tough questions while suspending disbelief and judgement, listening deeply in search of mutual understanding

Holds Cognitive Dissonance

- * Identifies opportunity to collaborate with disparate groups in promoting goals of innovation and expansion of awareness
- * Frequently, when located beyond unrelatable binary options, exceeds known expectations while maintaining contradictory perspective
- * Consistent mindfulness practice enables powerful presencing and tracking skills in a variety of environments, using various objects of meditation
- * Accesses vast mental maps with a focus on elements of data as well as singular features while considering the impacts of each on larger ecosystems
- * Considers diverse experiences and needs of others when selecting or designing interventions for the most profound impact

Deeply Attentive

- * Seeks confirmation of observations and deductions, often drawing attention to overlooked features or unmet needs
- * Considers listening a whole-body engagement of the sensory field, with a focused attunement on others in relationship
- * Effectively manages complications of monotropic focus in environments demanding partitioned application of attention
- * Excels in depth of exploration on any given area of focus, engaging fully with contextual and environmental subtleties
- * Empties the cup and presents with a beginner's mind whenever appropriate, without hesitation or embarrassment

Devoted to Activism

- * Acknowledges location often granted privilege, and openly discusses complexity as an advantaged other
- * Speaks truth to power, directly and indirectly, via engagement with broaching or coaching as needed
- * Eschews pathology and biomedical models of psychological distress in favor of neurodiversity paradigm
- * Centers social justice and trauma informed practice over methodologies bypassing systemic influences
- * Builds coalitions and works to surface emergent issues resident in exploration of group intelligence
